Before you invest in any fund, you should consider how it works with your other investments and your tolerance for risk.

This mutual fund is an alternative fund. It has the ability to invest in asset classes or use investment strategies that are not permitted for conventional mutual funds. The specific strategies that differentiate this fund from conventional mutual funds include: increased use of derivatives for hedging and non-hedging purposes; increased ability to sell securities short; and the ability to borrow cash to use for investment purposes. While these strategies will be used in accordance with the fund's investment objectives and strategies, during certain market conditions they may accelerate the pace at which your investment decreases in value.

How risky is it?

The value of the fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk rating

CI Investments Inc. has rated the volatility of this fund as low to medium.

Because this is a new fund, the risk rating is only an estimate by CI Investments Inc. Generally, the rating is based on how much the fund's return have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the fund's returns, see the "What is a Mutual Fund and What are the Risks of Investing in a Mutual Fund?" section of the fund's simplified prospectus.

A word about tax

In general, you'll have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much you pay depends on the tax laws of where you live and whether you hold the fund in a registered plan, such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan or a Tax-Free Savings Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.

How much does it cost?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Class F securities of the fund. The fees and expenses — including any commissions — can vary among classes of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. Ask about other funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

1. Sales charges

There are no sales charges applicable to your class of securities.

2. Fund expenses

You don't pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the fund class' returns.

The fund's expenses are made up of the management fee, fixed administration fee, trading costs, and other expenses. The fund's annual management fee is 0.80% of the fund's value and the fund's fixed administration fee is 0.17% of the fund's value. Because this fund is new, its other expenses and trading costs are not available.

The fund may pay CI a performance fee at the end of each calendar year equal to 10% of the amount by which the net asset value per unit at the end of such calendar year (before giving effect to any distributions by the fund since the High Water Mark (as defined in the prospectus) was determined, and adjusted to exclude the accrual of the performance fee during the calendar year) exceeds the High Water Mark multiplied by one plus the Hurdle Rate (as defined in the prospectus) multiplied by the number of units of that class outstanding at the end of such calendar year. If any units of a Fund are redeemed prior to the end of a calendar year, a performance fee may be payable on the redemption date in respect of each such units, as if the redemption date were the end of the calendar year. Performance fees will be calculated and accrued for each class on a daily basis during each calendar year.
