PORTFOLIO COMMENTARY

The year began with a strong rally in equity markets, reversing much of the damage suffered in the fourth quarter of 2018. Equities took their cue from a dovish pivot by central banks, especially the U.S. Federal Reserve, on monetary policy, leaving investors to believe the soft patch in economic data will pass. The strong rally in equities over the first quarter of 2019 has led to a more balanced risk/reward environment overall; however, we are uncovering attractive opportunities at the company level through our bottom-up investment process.

The portfolio of Cambridge Global High Income Fund (the "Fund") delivered a strong absolute return over the quarter (see performance table above).

Top contributors to performance over the quarter included Fund holdings in Crown Holdings, Inc. and Black Stone Minerals, L.P. Crown Holdings is a leading company in the metal and transit packaging industry. The company delivered on its free cash-flow targets following the acquisition of Signode Packaging Systems Ltd., which was used to repay related debt. Black Stone Minerals is an oil and gas royalty company that owns and manages millions of acres across U.S. resource plays. The company generated strong production and cash-flow growth supported by increased activity and acquisitions.

Top detractors from performance were Fund holdings in Cboe Global Markets, Inc. and Walgreens Boots Alliance, Inc. Cboe Global Markets is the owner of the Chicago Board Options Exchange and the stock exchange operator BATS Global Markets, Inc. The company is in the final stages of integrating BATS Global Markets and could possibly pursue larger mergers and acquisitions going forward. Walgreens Boots Alliance is a pharmacy chain in the U.S. and European Union member countries. During the quarter, the company attempted to counteract the weak outlook for reimbursement in the generic drugs market and tax reinvestment challenges.

We expect the global slowdown in economic growth to continue amid uncertainties around the trade dispute between the United States and China, China's economic growth and unstable European politics. We also expect global earnings growth to moderate in 2019, tracking the more subdued growth outlook.

In Canada, we continue to monitor several factors, including consumer debt, job growth, export numbers, and key leading and lagging indicators in the United States, and their impact on investments.

Abroad, we continue to monitor the United Kingdom's exit from the European Union as well as China's fiscal and monetary stimulus and the challenges China faces from high indebtedness, slowing property construction and poor demographics.

Given this backdrop, it is more challenging to find attractively valued investment opportunities. We are reviewing economic data for signs of stabilization or changes in trends that would impact economic prospects. We continue to focus on finding investments in durable, compounding businesses through a disciplined investment process and on building a resilient portfolio in areas that offer attractive compensation for the risk.
