INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGIES

The CI Marret Alternative Absolute Return Bond Fund (the Fund) seeks to provide positive absolute returns with low volatility over a market cycle regardless of market conditions or general market direction, by primarily investing in debt instruments across the credit spectrum including cash, government debt, investment grade corporate debt, high yield debt, credit derivatives and other income-producing securities throughout the world.

The Fund may use leverage. The leverage may be created through the use of cash borrowings, short sales and derivative contracts. The Fund's leverage must not exceed three times the Fund's net asset value. The leverage is calculated in accordance with the methodology prescribed by securities regulations, or any exemptions therefrom.

The portfolio sub-advisor seeks to achieve the investment objective of the Fund by tactically managing the portfolio's holdings using a combination of top-down macroeconomic analysis involving the assessment of economic, political and market trends, and a bottom-up company and security level analysis to assess a company's ability to generate cash and meet interest and principal payment obligations on its debt securities. The portfolio sub-advisor focuses on a company's industry position, operating leverage, management strength and experience, historical earnings and future projections, liquidity profile and accounting ratios and practices.

For a complete discussion of the Fund's investment objective and strategies, please refer to the Fund's most recently filed simplified prospectus.

RISK

No changes affecting the overall level of risk associated with investing in the Fund were made during the period/year. The risks of the Fund remain as discussed in the Fund's most recently filed simplified prospectus or its amendments. The Manager reviews the risk rating for the Fund on an annual basis, at a minimum, based on the methodology mandated by the Canadian Securities Administrators to determine the risk level of the Fund. Any change to the risk rating made during the period/year was as a result of such review and was not a result of any change to the investment objective, strategies or management of the Fund.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund's net assets decreased by $132.5 million to $371.2 million from December 31, 2022 to December 31, 2023. The Fund had net redemptions of $130.5 million for the year. The portfolio's performance increased assets by $19.6 million. The Fund paid distributions totalling $21.6 million. Series A units returned 4.5% after fees and expenses for the one-year period ended December 31, 2023. Over the same time period, the Fund's benchmark returned 6.7%. The benchmark is the FTSE Canada Universe Bond Total Return Index (the Benchmark or the Index).

The performance of the Fund's other Series is substantially similar to that of Series A units, except for differences in the structure of fees and expenses. For the returns of the Fund's other Series, please refer to the "Past Performance" section.

Investors entered the year concerned that the unprecedented pace of monetary policy tightening would lead to a recession, or at least slowing economic growth. However, the economic data remained resilient, even while inflation declined. Against this backdrop, most asset classes performed well, despite the challenges of banking failures, debt ceiling tensions and a deluge of government debt issuance.

The fears investors had over the pace of monetary tightening appeared to be validated in March 2023 when stresses in the global banking system led to the largest bank failure since the financial crisis of 2008-09. The crisis rapidly spread from regional banks in the United States to Switzerland. Further tightening in credit conditions looked likely. To prevent contagion from spreading further in the banking sector, regulators swiftly provided generous liquidity backstops and unprecedented guarantees of deposits. The combined actions calmed fears enough that the U.S. Federal Reserve Board (Fed) felt comfortable increasing interest rates by another 75 basis points in the months to follow.

Later in the year, investor focus shifted to the large increases in fixed income supply required by the continued deficit spending. Weaker-than-expected demand at government bond auctions and expectations of auction supply increases caused yields to rise rapidly. The term premium investors charge to hold longer-dated government bonds increased to levels not seen since the financial crisis. The bond market disruption concerned the U.S. Treasury enough to announce a smaller-than-expected increase to coupon issuance in early November, igniting a rebound in assets that lasted into year-end.

CI Marret Alternative Absolute Return Bond Fund

Management Report of Fund Performance for the period/year ended December 31, 2023

The Fed continued to pause on interest rate increases in December 2023. Fed Chair Jerome Powell communicated that peak interest rates had likely been reached and discussion of potential interest rate cuts was next on the agenda. Expectations for an economic soft-landing rose. Despite the roller coaster of narrative shifts and shocks, U.S. Treasury 10-year notes finished essentially where they started the year.

The Fund underperformed its benchmark over the year. The Fund's modest exposure to credit and its U.S. fixed income exposure detracted from performance. The Fund's equity allocation contributed to performance, as did its lower duration (sensitivity to interest rates) than the benchmark while interest rates rose in the first half.

The Fund's government bond duration ended the year at 5.4 years, in the lower end of its annual range, as interest rates continued to fall. Some of the reduction was a result of shifting from the 30-year bond segment to more attractive parts of the yield curve during December. The Fund's corporate credit exposure remained modest at less than 10% of portfolio duration as interest rates rebounded into year-end.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

We continue to believe that central banks have entered the pause phase of the monetary tightening cycle. The timing and magnitude of central bank interest rate cuts will likely determine whether there is a hard or soft landing for the economy. Central banks had been messaging a patient and gradual move to interest rate cuts due to fears of repeating the mistakes that led to the inflationary environment of the 1970s. However, recent comments from several key policymakers at the Fed suggest an increased possibility of earlier cutting action.

Markets have priced a very narrow path, where disinflation continues to the central banks' targets, but then promptly stops. If inflation continues to fall past target, it will likely be because of an output gap and slower economic growth than is currently priced into equities and credit. Alternatively, if inflation proves sticky, interest rate cut expectations are too aggressively priced into government bond markets.

For this cycle, yields above 4.0% remain attractive, in our view. However, uncertainty surrounding policy and economic narratives in 2024 should lead to tactical trading opportunities. Passive strategies are likely to see below-average risk-adjusted returns. We expect the environment will require a willingness to frequently adjust duration (sensitivity to interest rates), credit risk, maturity composition, inflation protection and country exposure. We will be focused on tactically shifting exposures in the Fund during bouts of volatility, while generating carry from high-quality fixed-income securities.

LEVERAGE

When a Fund makes investments in derivatives, borrows cash for investment purposes, or uses physical short sales on equities or other portfolio assets, leverage may be introduced into the Fund. Leverage occurs when the Fund's notional exposure to underlying assets is greater than the amount invested. It is an investment technique that magnifies gains and losses. Consequently, any adverse change in the value or level of the underlying asset, rate or index may amplify losses compared to those that would have been incurred if the underlying asset had been directly held by the Fund and may result in losses greater than the amount invested in the derivative itself. Leverage may increase volatility, may impair the Fund's liquidity and may cause the Fund to liquidate positions at unfavorable times.

To achieve its investment objective the Fund exercises leverage through participating in short selling transactions.

The Fund's aggregated amount of leverage must not exceed three times the Fund's net asset value.

During the period/year ended December 31, 2023, the lowest aggregated fair value amount of the leverage exercised by the Fund was $3.8 million (1.0% of net asset value) and the highest aggregated fair value amount of the leverage used during the period/year was $41.4 million (8.7% of net asset value).

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's audited annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on unitholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs including securities borrowing fees expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable. As of Dec. 31, 2023, 2022, 2021, 2020 and 2019 the trading expense ratio including interest and dividends on short positions was 0.18%, 0.17%, 0.08%, 0.04% and 0.08%, respectively.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period/year. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period/year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period/year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period/year, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period/year.

(5) This information is provided for the period(s)/year(s) ended December 31.

(6) Per units amounts are presented in U.S. dollars.

(7) Closing market price.
