The portfolio's performance increased assets by $0.4 million. The Fund paid distributions totalling $0.3 million. The benchmark is a combination of the FTSE Canada Universe Bond Total Return Index - 40%, the MSCI World Total Return Index - 35% and the S&P/TSX Composite Total Return Index - 25% (the Benchmark).

The performance of the Fund's other Classes is substantially similar to that of Class A units, except for differences in the structure of fees and expenses. For the returns of the Fund's other Classes, please refer to the "Past Performance" section.

The following commentary pertains to the results of operations of the Underlying Funds.

In an effort to slow the spread of COVID-19, various quarantine measures and shutdowns were put in place around the world in February and March 2020 leading to massive economic contraction. Within financial markets, both equities and credit assets lost significant value and government bond yields declined to all-time lows. To maintain liquidity and support economies, central banks globally lowered their benchmark interest rates, and governments implemented massive stimulus plans.

These supportive fiscal and monetary measures, as well as the gradual easing of restrictions and re-opening of businesses to start the period, led initially to a vigorous rebound in equity markets. Government bond yields plummeted and risky assets suffered significant mark-to-market losses. Later in the period, the equity market rebound moderated as pent-up consumer demand and investor enthusiasm dissipated. In addition, many regions experienced a second wave of COVID-19 infections that resulted in slower easing, or even reversals, of public health restrictions.

Throughout the period, fluctuations in the price of oil and the U.S. dollar contributed to significant financial market volatility, as did ongoing trade tensions between the United States and China, and the upcoming U.S. presidential election.

The portfolio is now at an 80% target to Ontario provincial bonds.

The Fund underperformed its benchmark for the period.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

For the foreseeable future, market volatility is in the hands of policymakers. Generally, they prefer low volatility versus high (bubble versus collapse), creating a positive backdrop for risky assets. The fine line is owning enough risk to ensure we participate in the upside while at the same time not getting caught in the decline.

In the short-term, we are monitoring the U.S. election. We expect some anxiety and uncertainty as the election is held during a pandemic and it may take longer for votes to be counted. In the end, we believe it is not so much the "who" that will matter to investors, but whether the winning party has a majority. Regardless of who the next president is, spending will be passed (with or without hiccups) but this will be of little concern to investors looking out over the long term. We hope we will see some semblance of returning to normal soon but continue to prepare and monitor for any challenges that arise.

Effective April 3, 2020, Stuart Hensman resigned as a member of the Independent Review Committee (IRC) of CI Funds and effective April 3, 2020, Donna Toth was appointed as a member of the IRC.

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's semi-annual and annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on unitholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period.
