RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The net asset value of the Signature Corporate Bond Fund (the Fund) decreased by $46.2 million to $1,914.1 million from March 31, 2019 to September 30, 2019. The Fund had net redemptions of $68.9 million during the period. The portfolio's performance increased net assets by $73.5 million. The Fund paid distributions totalling $50.8 million. Class A units returned 3.1% after fees and expenses for the six-month period ended September 30, 2019. Over the same time period, the Fund's benchmarks returned 3.8% and 3.8%, respectively. The benchmarks are a combination of the ICE BofAML U.S. High Yield Total Return Index - 50% and the FTSE Universe + Maple Bond Total Return Index - 50% and the FTSE Canada All Corporate Bond Total Return Index.

The performance of the Fund's other classes is substantially similar to that of Class A units, except for differences in the structure of fees and expenses. For the returns of the Fund's other classes, please refer to the "Past performance" section.

Capital markets were quite volatile during the period, as economic indicators weakened, the U.S.-China trade war rhetoric ratcheted up and Brexit dragged on. Interest rates fell through most of the period due to slowing economic growth and expectations that central banks would begin to lower overnight rates again, which did happen in the second half of the period.

The U.S. Federal Reserve cut overnight rates twice by 25 basis points (bps) each time in July and September, referring to them as a "mid-cycle adjustments" and not the start of an easing cycle. Additionally, European Central Bank (ECB) president Mario Draghi announced at the last ECB meeting that it would lower rates by 10 bps and restart quantitative easing for an undetermined amount of time.

The U.S. economy has slowed but the consumer sector is still in very good shape. We expect the United States and Canada are unlikely to slip into a recession over the next year, but there is no question that the risks are rising. However, until then, slow but positive growth and supportive central banks are generally very good conditions for credit investors.

The Fund had positive absolute returns on the back of tighter credit spreads and falling interest rates, but underperformed its benchmarks for the period.

The ICE BofAML U.S. High Yield Total Return Index returned 3.8% due to the carry of the bonds, as spreads tightened 3 bps to 402 bps over the period. Over the period, spreads were more volatile than would appear within a 100-basis point range, especially in the second quarter. Yield-to-worst fell to 5.9% from 6.5%, as credit markets rallied. U.S. high yield (excluding oil and gas) was relatively isolated from the global market concerns, as more companies are U.S.-domestically focused. Returns were volatile during the first half of the period, but were fairly stable in the third quarter. The high-yield bond market has, appropriately, turned discerning with middle-of-the-fairway, existing issuers able to fund easily where outliers are finding it more prohibitive.

The FTSE Canada Universe + Maple All Corporate Bond Total Return Index returned 3.8% in the period, as credit spreads tightened 10 bps and the 10-year Government of Canada issue fell 28 bps. New-issue supply increased in the third quarter, but was quite light in the first half of the period. The period was very volatile, but global investors' search for yield provided strong demand for North American investment bonds, as total negative-yielding global bonds surpassed US$16 trillion.

The main contributor to performance during the period was strong security selection in both the high-yield and investment-grade sectors.

In terms of individual contributors, Dresdner Funding Trust I (8.151% bonds due 2031) helped performance. Now assumed by Commerzbank AG, Dresdner Funding performed well on the back of higher capital levels, thawing credit concerns and lower interest rates on this relatively long-dated, high-yield rated bond.

New Gold Inc. (6.25% bonds due 2022) also contributed. A new management team focused on balance sheet repair and improving the prospects of the company's Rainy River mine increased the prospects of a near-term refinancing, driving yield compression in this bond, the first in the capital structure.

Bank of America Corp. (5.875% perpetual AT1 bonds) was another contributor during the quarter. This higher-yielding U.S.-dollar bond has attracted strong demand as investors grab for yield. The bank also posted good results.

Conversely, asset allocation was the main detractor from performance during the period. The Fund's out-of-benchmark allocation to preferred shares diminished results, as returns were lower than both high-yield and investment-grade bonds. As well, the Fund's underhedged exposure to the U.S. dollar asset diminished performance, as the Canadian dollar appreciated versus the U.S. dollar.

Another detractor during the period was Calfrac Well Services Ltd. (8.5% bonds due 2026), a Canadian oilfield services company specializing in pressure pumping. Muted North American drilling activity on lower energy prices has led to a surplus of capacity, thus hurting profitability.

There was a small change in the asset mix over the period with the Fund's U.S. high-yield allocation lowered 4% to 51%, as the strong year-to-date performance is unlikely to continue. The investment-grade weight was increased 3% to 42%, and the position in government bonds was reduced 0.5%. We are slowly increasing credit quality.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

We agree with the changed outlook from central banks, and that continued trade tensions warrant caution. However, we remain constructive on high-yield bonds insofar as high-yield compares favourably with many other income-producing asset classes and, thus far, earnings continue to meet expectations.

Current high-yield bond spreads (about 460 bps) are fair for the current environment. We are constantly deciphering a collection of idiosyncratic signals (from corporates, consumers and data from asset-backed securities like credit cards, auto loans, mortgages) and watching for changes in credit conditions. We believe high-yield valuations will be supported by both fundamental and technical factors as issuance is expected to underwhelm. For now, the Fund remains slightly overweight high yield on expected good coupon clipping but we are beginning to let the weight fall.

We are positive on the investment-grade sector but not as much as high yield. We are modestly positive on investment-grade credit, due to accommodative central banks and the strong global demand for higher-yielding assets, tempered by stretched credit fundamentals, geo-political risks and a slowing global economy. Spreads are tighter than earlier in the year so valuations aren't as compelling, but we expect we are still in a sweet spot for credit investors.

Effective after the close of business on August 2, 2019, the classes of the Fund that were eligible for CI Preferred Pricing Program (CIPP) transitioned from a tiered pricing model to a fee distribution model.

Effective September 19, 2019, James McPhedran became a member of the Independent Review Committee (IRC) of CI Funds and effective August 15, 2019, John Reucassel resigned as a member of the IRC of CI Funds.

Funds' Mergers

On September 23, 2019, CI Investments Inc. announced Funds' mergers. The mergers, subject to receiving all necessary unitholder and regulatory approvals, as applicable, will take effect on or about November 22, 2019. If approved, Sentry Corporate Bond Fund will merge into Signature Corporate Bond Fund.

Inter-Fund Trading

Inter-fund trading occurs when a Fund purchases or sells a security of any issuer from or to another Fund managed by the Manager. These transactions are executed through market intermediaries and under prevailing market terms and conditions. The IRC reviews such transactions during scheduled meetings. During the period ended September 30, 2019 the Fund executed inter-fund trades.

Independent Review Committee

The Fund received standing instructions from the Fund's IRC with respect to the following related party transactions:

- trades in securities of CI Financial Corp.; and
- purchases or sales of securities of an issuer from or to another investment fund managed by the Manager.

The applicable standing instructions require that related party transactions be conducted in accordance with the Manager's policies and procedures and that the Manager advise the IRC of any material breach of a condition of the standing instructions.

Signature Corporate Bond Fund

Management Report of Fund Performance for the period ended September 30, 2019

The standing instructions require, among other things, that investment decisions in respect of related party transactions (a) are free from any influence by an entity related to the Manager and without taking into account any consideration relevant to an entity related to the Manager; (b) represent the business judgment of the Manager uninfluenced by considerations other than the best interests of the Fund; (c) are made in compliance with the Manager's policies and procedures; and (d) achieve a fair and reasonable result for the Fund. Transactions made by the Manager under the standing instructions are subsequently reviewed by the IRC on a quarterly basis to monitor compliance.

The Fund relied on the IRC's standing instructions regarding related party transactions during this reporting period.

Except as otherwise noted above, the Fund was not a party to any related party transactions during the period ended September 30, 2019.

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's semi-annual and annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on unitholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period.
