Before you invest in any fund, you should consider how it works with your other investments and your tolerance for risk.

This mutual fund is an alternative mutual fund. It has the ability to invest in asset classes or use investment strategies that are not permitted for conventional mutual funds. The specific strategies that differentiate this fund from conventional mutual funds include: increased use of derivatives for hedging and non-hedging purposes; increased ability to sell securities short; and the ability to borrow cash to use for investment purposes. While these strategies will be used in accordance with the fund's investment objectives and strategies, during certain market conditions they may accelerate the pace at which your investment decreases in value.

The fund will use leverage. The leverage will be created through the use of cash borrowings, short sales and derivative contracts. How risky is it?

The value of the fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk rating

CI Investments Inc. has rated the volatility of this fund as low to medium.

Because this is a new fund, the risk rating is only an estimate by CI Investments Inc. Generally, the rating is based on how much the fund's returns have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the fund's returns, see the "What is a Mutual Fund and What are the Risks of Investing in a Mutual Fund?" section of the fund's simplified prospectus.

No guarantees

A word about tax

In general, you'll have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much you pay depends on the tax laws of where you live and whether you hold the fund in a registered plan, such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan or a Tax-Free Savings Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.

How much does it cost?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Series AH securities of the fund. The fees and expenses — including any commissions — can vary among series of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. Ask about other funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

1. Sales charges

Series AH securities are available only under the initial sales charge option.

What you pay		How it works
in percent (%)	in dollars ($)
Initial sales charge
0 to 5.0% of the amount you buy	$0 to $50.00 on every $1,000 you pay	<ul style="list-style-type: none">You and your representative decide on the rate.The initial sales charge is deducted from the amount you buy. It goes to your representative's firm as a commission.

2. Fund expenses

You don't pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the fund series' returns.

The fund series' expenses are made up of the management fee, performance fee, administration fee, trading costs, and Certain Fund Costs. Series AH's annual management fee is 1.30% of the fund series' value and Series AH's administration fee is 0.17% of the fund series' value. Because Series AH is new, its Certain Fund Costs and trading costs are not available.

The fund may pay CI a performance fee at the end of each year equal to 10% of the amount by which the net asset value per unit at the end of such year (before giving effect to any distributions by the fund since the High Water Mark (as defined in the prospectus) was determined, and adjusted to exclude the accrual of the performance fee during the year) exceeds the High Water Mark multiplied by one plus the Hurdle Rate (as defined in the prospectus), multiplied by the number of units of that series outstanding at the end of such year. If any units of a fund are redeemed prior to the end of a year, a performance fee may be payable on the redemption date in respect of each such unit, as if the redemption date were the end of the year. Performance fees will be calculated and accrued for each series on a daily basis during each year.
