Why invest with us?

The Black Creek managers turn the investment world upside down to look for global opportunities. They apply insights gained from over 160 years of collective investment experience to focus only on leading companies they believe have better future growth prospects than the market sees. From that list, they build concentrated portfolios of 25-35 companies, each selected on the basis of a distinct idea about its future value – an idea that’s proprietary to Black Creek and based on the team’s unique, experience-based insights. All investment team members are shareholders in the firm.
